The scenarios included in the tool came from a new mode (Scenarios & World Biomes) originally created for the game Red Eclipse. These scenarios use a different way of creating and simulating their scenarios, but you can make them compatible with Red Eclipse games by switching to the new interface. Red Eclipse is an indie game that allows players to create and play different historical scenarios. Red Eclipse is a narrative-driven game, set in the style of the golden age of American Science Fiction. Players must take the role of a First Adolescent of the United States, whose destiny is changed when he picks up a radio signal from the year 2805. The player is then sent to the year 3003 to prevent the destruction of the earth. Among the features of the game are : - A complete country data, geography and political opposition taken from real history for a remarkable realism (read our website for more details about the game.) - A free-form campaign, where the player can choose from a variety of missions and locations to pursue his goals, - A large number of unique characters to meet, with various sets of skills, appearances and opinions. Please send us feedback about the scenarios contained in the modding tool. Your support is always welcome. The modding tool contains source code that can be used, modified and adapted to your own ideas. IMPORTANT : the modding tool and its content should not be distributed as it is, but encoded in a script file or in its equivalent file in the.rp2 format, so that the desired modifications are not lost. the modding tool. Russian Translation Russian Translation The modding tool add-on lets players create and play context and scenarios (mods), as well as share them with other users. Since its release, more than 100 mods have already been shared and downloaded using the tool. A comprehensive creation tool The modding add-on lets you : ● modify country data (economic, political, demographic, fiscal.) ● change international relations between countries (diplomatic alignment, military alliances.) ● transform world geography (merging countries, making regions independent, putting a new city on the map.) ● create new missions and scenarios that are highly developed and detailed (triggering protests, wars, disasters, political scandals, assassinations, national elections, character demands. with the option of defining several conditions for triggering these events, and editing game text c9d1549cdd
